The screenshot shows the 'Zotero Settings' page, specifically the 'Account' section. It includes links for Account, Profile, C.V., Privacy, Email, Feeds/API, and Storage. The 'Username' is 'BibliotecaUIB' with a 'change' link. There are input fields for 'Current Password', 'New Password', and 'Verify New Password', followed by a 'Change Password' button. Below this is the 'Manage Email Addresses' section, which explains that users can log in with their username or primary email address. It shows the email 'biblioteca@uib.es' as 'Primary' and 'Unverified', with a note that a verification email was sent and links to 'Resend' or 'Delete'. A warning states that some features will not be fully enabled until the email address is validated. At the bottom, there's a section to 'Add email address' with an 'Additional Email' input field and an 'Add' button.
